

NEW YEAR MESSAGE-2018

On this festive and joyous occasion of the New Year 2018, it gives me an immense pleasure to convey to each one of you my best wishes. I pray to God for your well-being, health, happiness, success and prosperity.

As we completed 40th Foundation Day, this day gave us an occasion and opportunity to pause and take stock; to rededicate ourselves to our mission and to renew our resolution to take forward the Foundation to greater heights. Together we work towards a single goal and guide in the right direction. We can't use a rainbow as a ladder; we must proceed steadily with our feet on the ground solving problems one after another.

You as an organization have done very well and have given very good results in Research and Development of horticultural crops especially onion and garlic. I hope, we will work together in the right direction to achieve higher standards in research for horticultural commodities. It is a matter of pride for all of us that our organization is the best organization in the field of research particularly in horticulture sector in the country.

On this occasion, let us pledge to create a sense of commitment to meet out the need of quality seed of the farming community and other stakeholders of the country. We also set up new standards of performance to take NHRDF to the highest glory.

I thank you for your contribution, hard work and dedication.

I along with my family wish you a happy and prosperous New Year 2018.

Yours sincerely,
